Finding a Home in Scattered Site

In the last 5 years, through the growth of the Scattered Site Housing Programs, Chicago House has grown from 58 units of housing to 125 units of housing. This means that we now provide homes to 175 men, women and children who are impacted by HIV and AIDS. The growth of Scattered Site housing has represented over a 100% growth in the number of homes that Chicago House provides and allows us to offer housing in the North, West and South sides of Chicago in addition to our residential housing.

We offer three major Scattered Site Housing programs: the Hospital to Housing Program, the Samaritan Program and the Gaining Ground Program. In addition to providing families and individuals with permanent supportive housing, these programs also provided case management and access to a wide range of supportive services, including the Chicago House iFOUR employment program and the Sweet Miss Giving's internship. Through Scattered Site housing, Chicago House hopes to see further growth and more homes throughout Chicago.
